

Clean-Doorhandle

Have you already considered how to keep the door handles in your building clean?

Regular cleaning of all surfaces, including door handles that are touched by many different people, is a must in this corona period. This is no simple task for offices, shops, and all other places where people congregate, which is why the Clean-Door-Handle offers the perfect solution. It can be opened and closed with a simple arm movement, so that it does not have to be touched with the hands, thereby reducing the risk of contamination.
